

OVER 100 YEARS OF EXCELLENCE

RUDGE
& CO

RUDGE & CO

Rudge has been synonymous with high quality brassware since 1901. During its long existence it has gone through many eventful changes culminating in a re-launch Autumn 2003.

Rudge & Co (UK) Ltd. takes immense pride in having the capacity to manufacture the finest kitchen and bathroom brassware products in-house. In fact Rudge & Co is one of the very few British companies left not to import turned parts and is proud to produce their own brassware.

There is full confidence that the highest expertise and quality parts are used. These parts are then assembled and inspected by Rudge's highly skilled workforce allowing the finite details of the products to be assessed. This structure enables the company to maximize control of production and other key manufacturing processes to ensure its customers get a superior product as well a first class service to match. Only the best is acceptable and it is these such unrivaled facilities that enable Rudge & Co to create a superior range of finished products.

Rudge's recipe for success is to thrive on commitment, service, quality and professionalism and ensure this is clearly visible in the finished product. Providing an excellent service to the customer is of utmost importance and that is why we insist all manufacturing procedures take place within a few miles of the factory. This ensures every part of the production of our products are only a few minutes away which in turn provides a first class product and ultimately maximum customer satisfaction.

There is a great appreciation for traditional kitchen and bathroom brassware. This has been particularly evident over recent years where traditional product has complimented the modern lifestyle very well. Therefore, Rudge & Co will continue to provide what is arguably the finest traditional brassware available to today's consumer.

Kitchen
RANGES

Pevensey

Pevensey, being a flagship range has an extensive variety of brassware. This extends to a superb kitchen range to compliment the bathroom range giving customers the freedom of choice to keep the same style of the brassware throughout if desired. Featuring the superb traditional handles with the famous Rudge original spout, this immaculate range will undoubtedly have a long list of admirers.

Conisbrough

Conisbrough offers this wonderful kitchen range which is sure to be appreciated and easily recognised, largely because of its ever popular swan neck spout, which has always been an influential feature in the kitchen mixer design. Again, like the Pevensey, you have the opportunity to maintain a fixed style of brassware throughout the kitchen and bathroom.

Canterbury

This particular range has a variety of distinct features that really help attract attention. It's the beautifully designed spout, which especially gives the Canterbury Range its classy individuality and helps add an uncompromising sense of flair to your kitchen surroundings in the process. In fact, all the Canterbury's different attributes gloriously combine together to help create a stunningly unique traditional masterpiece for the kitchen.

Penmark

The Penmark is Rudge's distinctive 3 hole mixer range. Specifically designed for the kitchen this offers a sublime alternative to the standard 2 hole and mono sink mixer design and will be a firm favourite with those who want a kitchen with a difference, or from a more practical point of view have a larger sink or worktop to accommodate.

Roch

Best described as the 'sister of the swan neck' due to its shorter reach. The Calais spout gives the Roch range its beautifully sleek look along with a sense of flair; and with the choice of buttons to add to the top of its elegant levers, its attractiveness and style can be enhanced even further.

Rinse options

There is a rinse set to match each particular kitchen range. Alternatively, you may prefer a different style, the choices are endless. The beauty of the rinse option is that, because it operates with a separate control, the set itself acts as a separate entity to the actual tap, making it compatible with any existing kitchen tap.

Finishes

One of Rudge's main attributes is providing a good selection of product finishes. A lack of finish variety can restrict options whereas an array of finishes tend to provide the consumer with the ideal opportunity to be more imaginative when creating the dream kitchen or bathroom. All finishes have their own identities and uniqueness enabling them to compliment any interior design.

Polished Brass
Simplistic yet effective finish.
CODE SUFFIX: PB

Nickel
Designer finish well suited to a more contemporary setting.
CODE SUFFIX: NP

Chrome
Both stylish and contemporary this popular classic finish blends in perfectly with any setting.
CODE SUFFIX: CP

Brushed Nickel
Parts are brushed replacing the metallic look with an exquisite almost stainless steel type effect.
CODE SUFFIX: BN

Antique Gold
Classy finish which creates a beautiful luxurious effect to help add some elegance to even the most modern rooms.
CODE SUFFIX: AG

Specialist Finishes

The weathering process has a stunning impact on the appearance of the traditional product. These are 'living finishes' meaning they will change state with time which, helps to add both authenticity and realism to the products overall aging process.

Weathered Brass
Ingenious finish ideally suited to castles, country and stately homes. This bronze like dusty finish almost takes brass to its original state.
CODE SUFFIX:WB

Weathered Copper
Nice 'chocolate brown' effect sits superbly with natural stone and real wood giving an eye catching finish to every interior.
